

Staffless Library Agreement

By signing this agreement, you accept the following:

- You are responsible for the use of your library card for admission to the library.
- You must be minimum 18 years of age to access the staffless library.
- Adults can accompany minor children they are responsible for (parents, close family, childcare workers). For the children's safety they are not to be left in the library unaccompanied during staffless hours.
- Make sure the entrance door locks behind you when you enter the library.
- Show consideration for others. Do not litter. Keep our library tidy.
- Comply with the library's current borrowing regulations and rules of conduct.

When you have signed this agreement, and we have upgraded your library card to entry card status, you have access to the staffless library at Bærum Public Library. Any violation of this agreement may lead to revocation of the right to use the staffless library.

The library is under video surveillance during the staffless library hours. Surveillance recordings are stored in compliance with current laws and regulations and are automatically deleted after 7 days.

If the alarm is set of, or we receive information about any unwanted activity in the library, the library will check the surveillance records. The library will report vandalism to the police and hold you financially liable for any damage.

You must evacuate the building immediately in case of fire alarm.

Your visit to the staffless library is your personal responsibility, and at your own risk.

To cancel this agreement, please contact Bærum Public Library.

I have read the terms, and I accept the conditions.
